PROGRAM ASSESSMENT:
2016 Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Observance Program
(featuring South Carolina State Senator Marlon Kimpson)

JANUARY 14, 2016
Each year the Office of Institutional Diversity hosts an annual program to commemorate the life and legacy of the late Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Speakers are selected based on their contributions to the advancement of Dr. King’s dream for all people to be treated equally regardless of the color of their skin.

South Carolina State Senator Marlon Kimpson served as this year’s keynote speaker. Since his election to South Carolina’s General Assembly in 2013, Senator Kimpson has been instrumental in the development and passage of critical legislation aimed at improving the lives of minority citizens across the state. In 2015 he was a primary sponsor of a bill which made South Carolina the first state in the nation to require law enforcement to wear body cameras. He also was a sponsor and floor leader of the bill that removed the Confederate flag from the South Carolina State House grounds following the tragedy at Mother Emanuel AME Church in June 2015.

For his efforts, Kimpson was recently awarded the Elected Official of the Year by the South Carolina Democratic Party. He is a graduate of Morehouse College and received his J.D. from the University of South Carolina School of Law.
